A movement has been started within the past few days looking to the establishment of a new industry for Walhalla, and subscriptions to the amount of about $9,000 have been guaranteed by citizens of the town toward the erection and operation of a hosiery factory. W. John Schroder, a practical and successful mill man and of Walhalla, is prominently connected with the enterprise and is one of the principal subscribers to the stock for the proposed plant. His success in the cotton mill business, and practical knowledge of the general workings of cloth, yarn and other mills, fit him for the management of such a concern, and his energy and good judgment assure success for whatever enterprise he may assist in launching. It is to be hoped that the work will be carried to comple tion, and that in the near future active wor will be started. While there had been no premonition of the impending crash, no morning of the season had witnessed a more demoralized market. In less than ten minutes after the opening half a cent had been taken off the price of cotton. Prices went up and down, 10, 20 and 30 points, within two and three minutes. May opened at 15.25 and sold down to July, opening at 15.22, went down to 14.86. Toward the end of the first half hour early sellers started to cover and there was a rapid advance. There was nothing in the news to account for the excitement. It seemed merely a renewal of bear operations and the catching of further stop orders.

Shortly after the afternoon session, however, there was a lull in the pit and at about five minutes after 2 o'clock the announcment of the suspension was made.

For a few seconds there was an ominous quiet over the floor as though the news had stunned all within hearing of the announcement. Then, with one impulse, a mighty shout went up from the bears; they who had been fighting Mr. Sully and the bull clique for months.
